Discussion (Including relationship to other Council actions)

March 18, 1985 - Public Hearing

Tom Swihart, attorney for petitioners, stated that the petitioners want the rezoning so that the entire Lot C will be zoned one zoning. Presently the northern portion of the lot is R-1 and the portion being requested for rezoning is RA. He stated they have submitted a development plan for the presently zoned R-1 property and if rezoned the southern portion will be compatible for future development.

Ben Eisbart stated that the staff recommended deferral of the rezoning request until such time as a plan is submitted for development of this portion also.

Mr. Swihart stated they are asking for the rezoning because the RA zoning requires a larger lot size and he felt the staff's request was a concern that the property to the south that is up for rezoning would be landlocked, since there is no access to this portion, except through the northern portion of the lot.

Edith Kenna asked Mr. Swihart what his reaction to a deferral would be.

DETAILS

Mr. Swihart stated he did not know how the developer would feel. He stated their intention was to get started as soon as possible on developing the already zoned R-1 portion of the property to the north. He stated it is possible if the southern half of the property is not rezoned R-1 as requested, they would have to change the plans to make the entire subdivision compatible, because of the difference in the size of lot requirements in the two different zonings.

V.C. Seth, Director of Planning for CD&P, stated the staff's concern is with the southern half of the property, being requested for rezoning and the fact that it is landlocked. He stated the Commission could also not give final plat approval for the northern half of the lot until a primary development plan has been submitted for the southern half of the property.

There was no one else present who wished to speak in favor of or in opposition to the proposed rezoning.

March 21, 1985 - Business Meeting

Motion was made and carried to approve the rezoning request from RA to R-1.

Expansion of "Diamond Jim's" amusement park.

Discussion (Including relationship to other Council actions)

February 25, 1985 - Public Hearing

Dan Roberts, developer and owner, stated they were asking for the rezoning in order to expand the present amusement park "Diamond Jim's" by adding a Water Slide. He stated the park presently consists of video games, miniature golf course, refreshment stand and an outdoor roller rink with lights and music, and a go-cart track for children 10 years and older and adults.

Mr. Roberts stated that the water slide is a new concept to Fort Wayne.

Mr. Roberts stated that the City of Fort Wayne commissioned a consulting firm from Texas to conduct a market study for the feasibility of a water park to be constructed within the city's corporate boundaries. He stated that the study showed a recommendation that a water park be built on city owned property including one 14,000 sq. ft. wave pool, one 1,200 sq. ft. kiddie pool, 5 water slides, one 750 ft. arcade building, one 400 sq. ft. refreshment building and two changing rooms. He stated the study estimated the market area to be a 50 mile radius. It stated that 70% of all customers would live within 5 miles of the park; 25% will live within 5 and 15 miles and the remaining would live within 15 to 50 miles from the park. He stated the projected first annual attendance for the park was 93,000 people. He stated they project 75,000 patrons the 1st year. He stated they project attendance would increase 25% during the next 2 years.

He stated the water park they are proposing would include one 6,000 sq. ft. activities pool. He stated it is a non-swimming pool. He stated it will have a lily-pad walk, three cannonball drops (form of a slide). He stated they also propose a 400 sq. ft. kiddie pool.

He further stated that this type of function (amusement park) has a limited time that it is open through the year, that being the summer months. He stated the water slide area would only be used during daylight hours and would not likely be frequented when the sun goes down.

Richard Ellenwood, 1244 Inwood Drive appeared in oppostion to the rezoning request. Mr. Ellenwood stated the park already creates a traffic problem as well as a noise problem in the area, when it is open. He stated the street is undeveloped and there are no storm sewers in the area. Mr. Ellenwood stated that this type of rezoning would be a detriment to the area. He stated the street is unable to take the traffic, let alone the projected number of cars Mr. Roberts stated. He stated he does not see any need for this requested change.

Resident at 1223 Inwood stated they live directly behind the property appeared in opposition, siting the unimproved street and the noise as a detriment to the area.

Dan Roberts in rebuttal stated he was speaking with various city departments with regard to improving Inwood Avenue and have indicated they are willing to contribute to the cost of repairing the street. He stated there are other improvement needed including extending the water line. He stated that in the three years they have been open they have had only one or two calls complaining about noise. He stated they are very sensitive to the needs of the surrounding residential area.

There was no one else present who wished to speak in favor of or in opposition to the proposed rezoning.

March 4, 1985 Business Meeting

The petitioners submit a letter stating that they would be willing to amend their petition to exclude from the rezoning the easterly 130 feet of Lots 27 & 28 to provide for a buffer area. They wished only to be able to use that area for a retention pond.

The Commission deferred any action on the request to the following business meeting on March 25, 1985.

March 25, 1985 Business Meeting

Motion to deny the request for rezoning was made and carried.

Discussion (Including relationship to other Council actions)

March 18, 1985 Public Hearing

William Swift, attorney for the petitioners stated that this rezoning would be an extension of the P.O.D. being developed to the north. He stated they are trying to rezoned to make all of the real estate a POD and provide an office park for the entire 3 parcels of land. He stated his clients own the property to the south and the property to the west as well as the property up for rezoning and the property to the north that is already zoned POD. He stated that all of the property stated above is under one ownership that of East State Professional Center, which is a partnership consisting of six dentists. He stated they feel it would be a benefit to the community to make all of the property compatible for professional offices. He stated that the property is presently R-3 and the P.O.D zoning is a more restrictive zoning than the R-3.

Mel Smith, Commissioner, questioned whether the access from State Street was two-way. Can people turn left or right from the access.

Develop single family subdivision.

Discussion (Including relationship to other Council actions)

March 18, 1985 Public Hearing

A letter was submitted by the petitioner making a commitment to develop the land only for single family use.

Peter Gallucci, representing petitioner state they intended to build 10 to 12 units and the development would have a condominium type of ownership. He stated the houses would be owned by the purchaser but the common ground would be owned by and controlled by the association. He stated he felt it would give the developer (Frank Gallucci) more control over the development of the homes and enable him to retain control after the project is built. He stated the homes would start at a cost of approximately $200,000.

Mark Strong, engineer with Turnbell Engineering stated that the density allowed under the present zoning is 13, they are planning on a less dense project.

Ben Eisbart questioned why they needed the RA zoning if they intended to build single family.

DETAILS

Peter Gallucci stated that if they had to develop under the R-1 they would have to subdivide the property into lots and sell the entire lot and the only way then to enforce any covenants on the land would be through court action. He stated though under the RA they would not be obliged to subdivide the property into lots but could sell the homes only and thereby retain control over the land.

Mr. Strong stated that they also have more flexibility under the RA zoning. He stated with the R-1 zoning they would be restricted by sideyard requirements on each lot, unless they would request a waiver from the BZA. He stated they would end up having to build smaller units on the property.

V.C. Seth, Director of Planning for CD&P, stated the Commission could ask the petitioner to submit a development plan and approve both the rezoning and plan at the same time. He stated this would give the Commission a good idea of what they were approving in the RA zoning. He stated he would still suggest this is spot zoning. He stated though that a plot plan would allow them to approve the request of rezoning based upon the plan.

Gary Baeten, Senior Planner with CD&P, stated that the petitioners submitted the request in stead of going through the Subdivision Control Ordinance to eliminate a considerable amount of complications with setbacks and lot coverage. He stated they have submitted a development plan and a public hearing on the plan is scheduled for April.

Ben Eisbart questioned if a deferral would inconvenience the petitioner.

Mr. Strong stated that it would. He stated they want to be under consturction later this summer if possible. He stated they are willing to work with staff and work out any problems with the development plan they had submitted.

There was no one else present who wished to speak in favor of or in opposition to the proposed rezoning.

March 21, 1985 Business Meeting

Motion was made to approve the requested rezoning and carried.

The Plan Commission conditioned the approval provided the property be used for single family residential development as was stated by the petitioner. (Copy of letter from petitioner attached to original rezoning ordinance).
